

August 25, 2011

To: Whom It May Concern

Regarding: Lynn Novitsky

Lynn Novitsky, of LAN Communications, Inc. has worked with the Information Services Department of Metalwest, LLC since 2004.

Lynn was interviewed and hired as an independent consultant because of the overwhelming complexity involved in managing both billing and relationships with telecommunications companies. While Lynn's work was originally limited to help with a telecommunications contract and auditing of our billing, she has since become an extension of our technology department.

Since Lynn began working with Metalwest, she has saved Metalwest 100's of thousands of dollars. She continues to provide maintenance on our telecommunications bills, but provides additional value in every area of our business that comes into contact with telecommunications providers. She is currently involved with projects involving the opening of new facilities, the replacement of our enterprise phone system, and reviewing options for data access in an existing facility.

Lynn has deep relationships throughout the telecommunications industry, and of greater importance, she understands how to negotiate the complex telecommunications landscape to get things done. We do business with Lynn because she is trustworthy and effective, as she interacts with an industry that lacks both of those traits. She has become an invaluable ally to Metalwest and we call on her services regularly.

I strongly recommend the services of Lynn Novitsky of LAN Communications., Inc. and I am available to discuss the details of our relationship if you feel you could also benefit from her outstanding work.

Brian Madison

Director, Information Services
Metalwest, LLC